Dear Folks,
1993

In response to your communication I would like to say that I made every effort to send the full and complete filing fee with my patent application. I phoned your office the day I sent the application and asked what the filing fee was to make sure that I sent the full amount. If the check I sent was insufficient it was due to a miscommunication from the person I spoke with. I submit that there was no effort or intention on my part to defraud your office of the full amount. If you wish I'd be happy to send documentation of that phone call. Hopefully this check will make up the difference and resolve the matter.

Sincerely,
